About Jubilate:

The Jubilate Singers are a mixed voice choir based in Dulwich Hill. Established in 1994 by Susan Reppion-Brooke, this choir is one of the longest running community choirs in Sydney, with some of its original members still continuing presently. We come together from diverse experience levels to sing quality choral music from a range of genres and enjoy performing across Sydney and interstate.

Some of our recent performances have included featuring in ABC Radio's Sing Out Sydney in 2018 and 2019, performing Vivaldi's Gloria in Tasmania in 2019, recording our own virtual choir in 2020 and producing a combined concert of Mozart's Requiem in 2022. Currently, we have a program planned for the second half of 2022 to perform Faure's Requiem, which we ask our new conductor to lead.

We deeply value inclusivity and generosity as a group and enjoy looking for regular ways to build community together and to seek out social justice causes to support. With no formal auditions and funded by member contributions, this choir is open to anyone with a love of music. Jubilate partners with Symphonia Jubilate, a pioneer of community orchestral music, with whom we regularly collaborate on concerts and fundraisers.

This position is supported by a committee of choristers who help plan concerts and events. The committee also leads matters pertaining to membership, rehearsal venue, finances and social activities. All rehearsals include an accompanist.

How to Apply:

The choir conductor is a paid position, with a commitment of weekly rehearsals on a Monday night following the NSW school term calendar. The appointment will commence on July 18.

If you are interested in this position, please send your CV to president@jubilate.org.au. Applications close COB June 17. Our committee looks forward to meeting with you.
